

Important Information regarding FCA-UAW Apprenticeship Program Selection Process for qualifying UAW Members

This is an announcement to inform all UAW-FCA Members that the UAW and FCA have come to an agreement regarding the selection process of future apprentices for the UAW-FCA Apprenticeship Program. Details of this selection process are still being finalized. As new information becomes available, we will communicate it.

Please check with your local union elected officials and your Local Technical Training Coordinators (LTTC) in your location for future updates.

Outlined are some of our common objectives:

- To be considered to enter the UAW-FCA Apprenticeship Program you must be a full-time seniority FCA Employee.
- A full-time seniority FCA Employee interested in entering into the apprenticeship program must complete the Industrial Readiness Certificate Program (IRCP).
- Employees who successfully complete the Industrial Readiness Certificate Program (IRCP) with a minimum of 75% passing grade may gain the opportunity to enter into the UAW-FCA Apprenticeship Program.
- The Industrial Readiness Certificate Program (IRCP) has been designed to extract the best candidates for the program.
- The IRCP encompasses taking 3 specific courses on the employee's own time.
- Tuition Assistance Plan Benefit for qualifying employees will apply.