

Please be advised that Effective November 1, 2021 the Company will discontinue the After Tax Credit Union Deduction Program. Our records indicate that you may currently be a participant in this Program.

If you have a Credit Union Deduction on your ePay Statement (after-tax deduction), this deduction will automatically be re-routed to your normal payment method (bank account) beginning November 1, 2021. The final Credit Union Deduction will be on October 29 and no action is required to stop the deductions, this Notice is for your information only.

Today, all employees have the ability to elect a bank account (any bank including a credit union) to have their entire pay directly deposited. This process uses their individual bank account number and bank routing number. Funds are deposited directly to the employees bank account. Any rejected funds are returned to the company by the bank and paid to the employees via paper check.

Employees currently using the after-tax credit union deduction will have it automatically stopped following the October 29th pay date, no action is required by employees for this stoppage.

The Chrysler Credit Union Council wants employees to know that many credit unions allow you to link external bank accounts and transfer money for no fee. Employees should work with their credit union if they still require deposits into their credit union account on a regular basis.

Employees can change their direct deposit account on file with the Company at any time. Instructions can be found here

If you wish to stop your credit union deduction sooner than November 1st please Visit Employee Central, search Credit Union and submit a cancel request.
